

Are you interested in supporting women in recovery?

SAA Women's Intergroup (WIG): An Introduction and Invitation

The SAA Women's Intergroup, a new service organization, is a resource that may not be familiar to you. The WIG is working to honor and support the growing number of women in SAA. We have already produced one well-attended online retreat, several online workshops, paid for rooms for women attending Convention in 2019, and given registration scholarships for four women to attend the 2022 Convention.

We are currently forming a subcommittee to plan the next women's retreat. Contact us at saawomensig@gmail.com if you are interested in being a part.

Our website, www.saaforwomen.org, is a women's guide to resources. This includes an ever-growing list of meetings that are "Welcoming to Women." You will also find recovery stories of women, links to literature and SAA publications, resources for getting a sponsor, other women's service organizations, and many ways women can connect. And much more.

ANYONE can participate in the WIG. While we are focused primarily on women, we are inclusive and welcoming to all of our diverse fellowship. We invite all to take part in expanding our support of women by simply sharing our information with your groups or fellows in SAA. Visit our website, or contact us at saawomensig@gmail.com to join our mailing list, learn how to list your meeting as "Welcoming to Women," attend our business meetings, or become involved in our next planned events.
