A quick report on the WOR:

The WOR was decorated with items from the WOC box and fresh flowers. I displayed the healthy snacks and labeled them as "Provided by WIG." I was able to place the WIG handouts on the snack counter. There was a happy buzz around the food provided in the WOR. Most of it was eaten! As someone who has difficulty around large groups of men (even sober men), it meant a lot to me that I could get away from the crowd and find something tasty and healthful to eat in place where I could relax. I received that feedback from others, as well. Overall, I believe that the snack program the WIG provided in the WOR was a great success. It allowed me to spend the ISO budget on fresh flowers, craft supplies for this convention and conventions to come, and a few cookie trays for the welcome reception. It also gave everyone an option if they were hungry and it encouraged women to extend their stay in the room for fellowship and fun.

Gratefully In Service,
Evah
